DEDICATION

MISS NATIVIDAD G. SITCHON, B.S.C., M.A.
Dean Emeritus

For your selfless devotion towards the noble task of molding the youth of this school; for your integrity and self-discipline that holds a lasting influence to those around you; for your honest and sincere endeavor in interpreting the true essence of Christianity by living what you preach; for symbolizing what things are true, good, and beautiful in Central Philippine University through all these years, with loving thoughts we dedicate to you this memento of our campus life.

Students, alumni and friends greeted and honored Dean Emeritus Sitchon in a program and dinner in the Rose Memorial Hall and Ledesma Hotel Pavillon. It was also a reunion of her former students who came all the way from their far places and those who could not come wired and wrote letters greeting her.

UNIVERSITY LIFE

Though we who came to Central Philippine University were young, encouraged by our elders and friends in hope that we would emerge to success, we were normal people. We had serious aspirations, but we also liked to laugh, sing, and play. At times bored, yet we faced the challenge of study, thought, talk, worship, friendship, and fun.

Yes, all are but memories, but we will never fail to share her ideals wherever we are and lift her to greatness.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES AND TH

MR. ANATALIO T. VIRAY
Chairman, Board of Trustees

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES AND THE UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES is by law the highest governing body of the University, whose chief concern is the making of high policy which the University President is duty-bound to implement. The President of the University, as a creature and agent of the Board of Trustees and by virtue of his office, is the highest executive officer and leader of the University, who must operate administratively within the policy framework set up by the Board of Trustees.

A progressive and enlightened Board of Trustees does not concern itself with the administration of the campus. That job it has given to the University President, whom it has carefully chosen, theoretically, over a number of capable candidates.

If the University President is no good, he will bungle the administration of the University, and the choice of the Board of Trustees has proved to be a mistake. But if the Board of Trustees has chosen the right kind of President — academically qualified, versed in curricular substance and direction, administratively experienced, progressively oriented, schooled in the great liberal tradition, courageous to blaze unpopular trails, strong in character, discerning in intellect, concerned with the finances as well as the campus and faculty developments — then the Board of Trustees has chosen wisely, and has well placed in that person the necessary confidence to administer with great freedom to make the University move.

INK, the organ of the Central Philippine University Alumni Association, Incorporated, is the only link between almost 11,000 alumni scattered all over the country and the world. It also serves as a pipeline for the University administration to these alumni, a service which will become increasingly vital as the University expands its programs with the alumni playing the role as protectors of the image of the University wherever they may be. Indeed INK may well be the important part of the "armour-and-shield" function which President Rex D. Drilon has reposed for the alumni to undertake for their University.

LINK Publishers: Mr. Rodolfo Jalbuna, Mr. Amalio Garcia, Mr. Quintin Franco.

THE PRESS is an auxiliary enterprise of the University. It prints the University's various forms, receipts, special programs, cards, office stationery, envelopes, and also does binding jobs for the University libraries. The Press finds time to do special jobs for the faculty, staff, and students, like printing personalized cards and other odd jobs. Job orders are coursed through the Office of the Public Relations, which coordinates the Press schedules.

UNIVERSITY PRESS PERSONNEL: Mr. Pio Poli, Mrs. Rosalina Mejica, Mr. Ulplano Alave, Mr. Ramon Mejica.

CENTRALITE '68

With amazing versatility, the members of the Centralite staff allot most of their time in the yearbook production, not for their personal satisfaction or glory but for their loyalty and love for the University, and every year, they live-up to everyone's expectations. Most notable in the '68 Centralite are the additions of the write-ups, dividers, and number of pages. Also the able and excellent cooperation and help of the VB Studio as well as that of the Benipayo Press, Manila are making this production interesting to all.

PRESIDENT'S ARRIVAL

A happy President is greeted by eager friends
and loved ones.

August 13, 1967

Dear President Drilon,

Sir, welcome! I wish I was there. I really miss the University. It's good I did not discontinue my subscription to the Central Echo because it's one way I get news about school.

A friend wrote and mentioned something about the big welcome party when you arrived, the long motorcade around Iloilo City and your lively talk with the University community later that day.

We are glad to know that people you met abroad are so eager to help our University and really do something about it. A lot of people I associate with keep on asking me about CPU and gladly, I tell them, but I hope we have a nation-wide Public Relations system for it really will serve its purpose very well.

Sir, I sent a check for the fund drive which the University is now undertaking. I sent it by registered mail. With everybody "pitching in", that goal could be reached easily.

I have to close. Please give my regards to everybody especially to Professor Piagata.

Thank you very much.

DRAMATICS

"Ang Mausikon Nga Anak" is a zarzuela in Hiligaynon by Santiago Jinon. This production is used by the Public Relations Office in its student recruitment project, community outreach and alumni contact program.

"The Little Foxes" portrays a typical unscrupulous rich family. The greed and lust for more material things, turns many men even against their very own brother and sister. The play portrays how man has a potential to become blind to the decencies in life.

"Shh... hipus anay, ura si Tia Maming sa likod."

"Tay, himulatan ko na nga mangin malipayon ang amon nga pangabuhì."

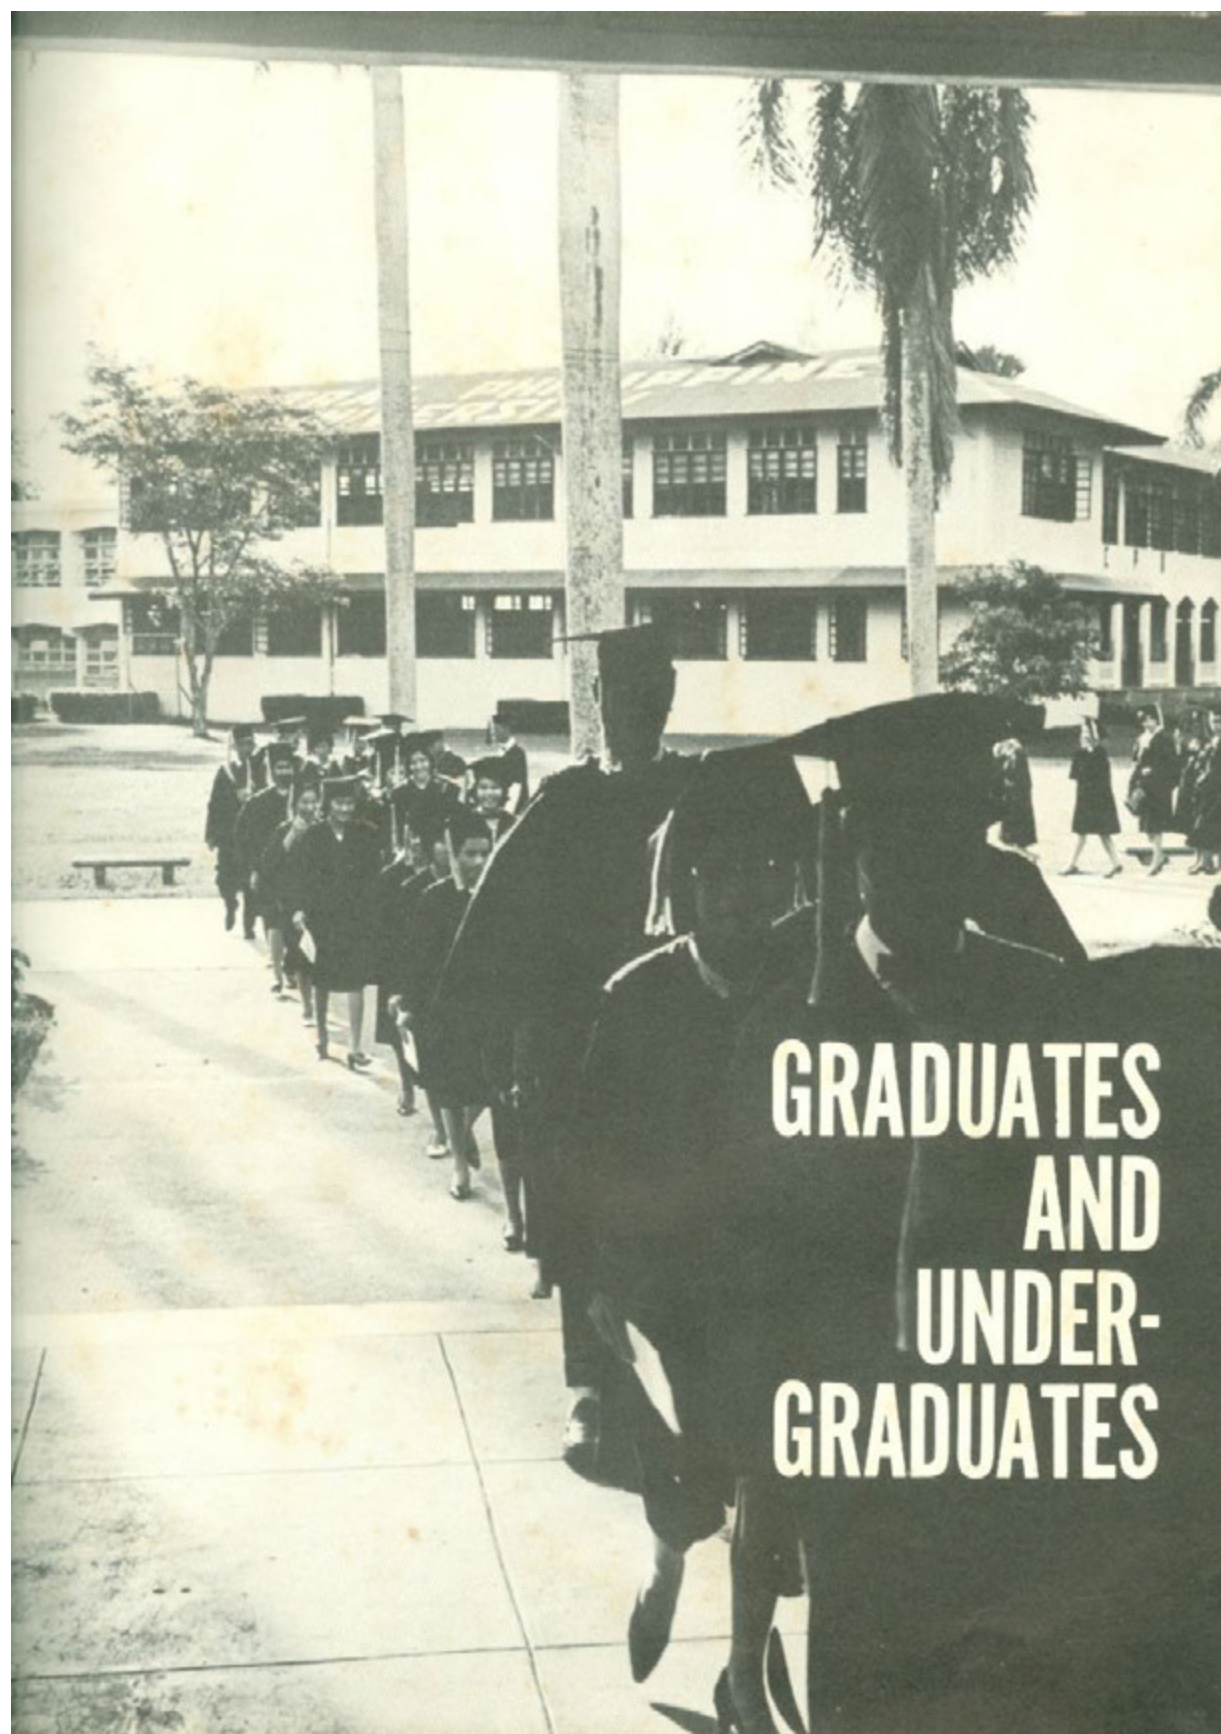

"Good morning Cal. I want you to do something for me."

"Our Southern women are well favored."

Graduates Could be Bad or Good Mirrors

There are two worlds for you — the University World and the World Outside.

As students here for four or five years and now as graduates of this 62-year-old institution of higher learning, you have seen the University World and lived in it with your books and theories and dreams.

You are now going into the World Outside to test the validity of the University World. You will find continuing conflicts between the University World and that World Outside.

To the extent that you can resolve the conflicts without losing your integrity and your high principles and your zealous idealism, to that extent (only to that extent) will you have begun to grow in an authentic manner.

The World Outside is greedy, parasitic, deceitful, selfish, slanderous, quarrelsome — also kind, generous, noble, truthful, if you know how to search hard enough beyond the superficial. You will be discouraged at first, but you need not be. For with your training at Central Philippine University, you are theoretically armed with the weapons of Christian character and Christian liberal-minded intellect that can make the difference in the eternal contest between the forces of darkness and the forces of light.

Whatever you do in the World Outside will mirror your Alma Mater. It will mirror it for good or for ill.

If for good, you have proved worthy.

If for ill, you have betrayed your trust, and the dark reflection spreads to your family, your community, your nation, and of course dishonors you God.

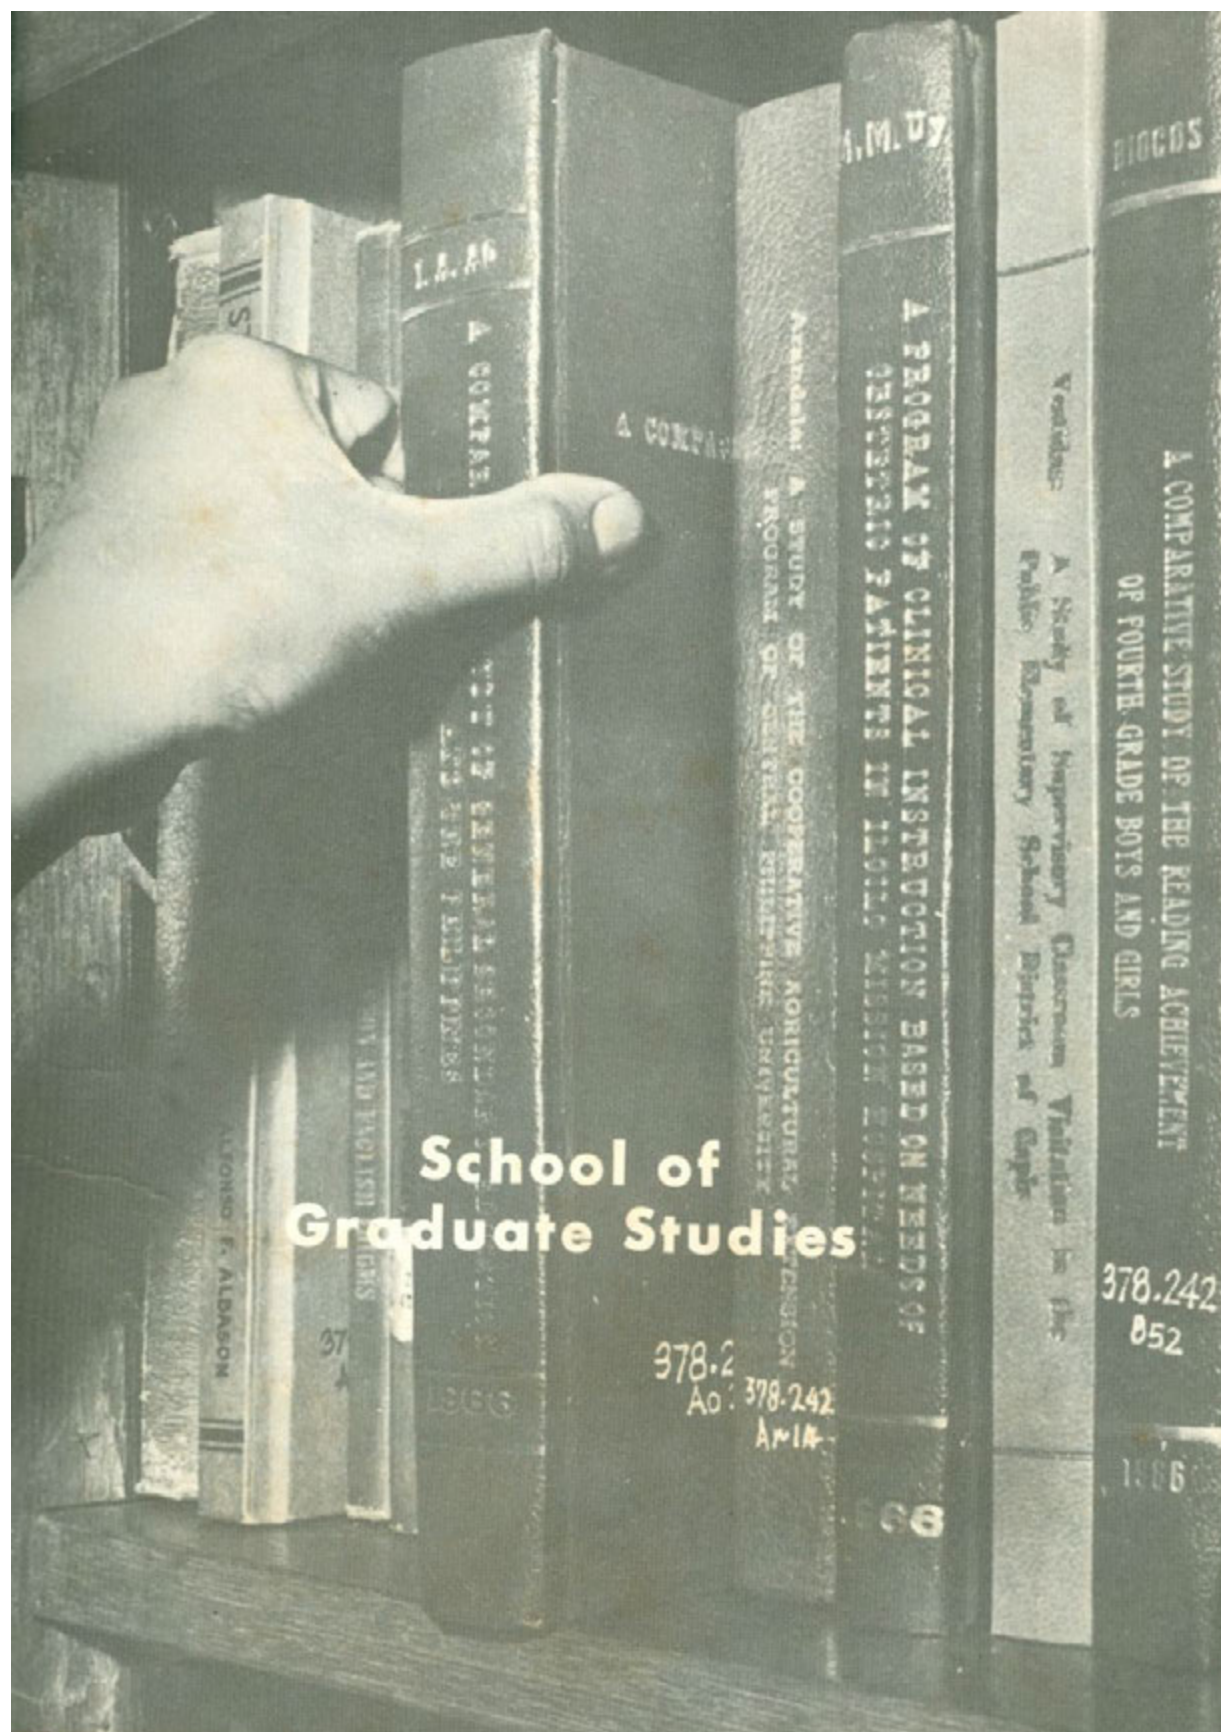

But CPU graduates in the main have made good because the CPU label has become an integral part of their lives.

You, who are this year's harvest, will do no less, and I shall be watching <sup>you</sup> range the world — moving it as perhaps no other graduates of any other University has done or can do.

Good speed you on your way.

Mac A. Drilon

Law

THE COLLEGE of Law, being an integral part of Central Philippine University, endeavors to render its share of providing a quality education which will develop students spiritually, intellectually, socially and physically, to the end that they may become contributing citizens who are impelled by high Christian ideals. The best legal minds available meet at Central Philippine University, where together, they mould the youth for a dynamic, fearless leadership steeped in Christianity and of excellent legal character. Mentors at CPU are well aware that the youth's potentialities for success in the future are great, given the necessary guidance, attention and the proper training.

A varied program of cultural, recreational and social opportunities is open to the students of the College of Law. Aside from the regular convocations during weedkays, extra effort is made to bring outstanding leaders both local and national, to the campus so they may be introduced to students.

Student organizations, abound on the campus, some exclusively for certain groups. The order of Kalantiao, an exclusive fraternity of all College of Law students and named after the famous law giver of ancient Philippines, is a legal and cultural society which seeks to reconcile the judicial as well as the cultural lore of the East and the West. Seminars, debates, oratorical contests and other forensic activities are sponsored by the fraternity with the hope of training the students not only to hurdle the Bar examinations they have to take before they can practice law, but also in enabling them to satisfactorily equipped themselves with the unwritten techniques in the art of advocacy.

Several scholarships are open to deserving students in the University. Upon recommendation of the Dean, excellent and meritorious students in the College of Law are granted free tuition. At the end of the school year, certificates and citations are awarded to the students who have excelled in the different fields of learning such as debating, oratorical contests, scholarship, writing and other cultural fields.

Three thousand six hundred law books, including Supreme Court Digests, Philippine Reports, latest editions of books, in Political, Civil, Commercial, and Criminal Law on Procedure, as well as periodicals such as Law Journal and the Official Gazette, are reserved entirely for the students in the College of Law.

Established in 1951 by Dr. Burl Alva Slocum, who laid very strong foundations for the College, which enabled it to achieve through the years a degree of national prestige.

In 1954 the first class of four was graduated. Presently the College is graduating an average of 100 each year with the four-year agricultural degree.

It is the aim of the College to train students in scientifically developed, up-to-date agricultural methods and to teach them how to use their training as farmers, farm managers, teachers, and workers for the various agriculturally related branches of the government as well as for private industries which sell and distribute agricultural products, equipment and supplies.

Through agricultural research the College applies the methods of scientific investigation to find answers to pertinent agricultural problems. Th rough agricultural extension the College endeavors to train off-campus groups of farmers to use modern farming techniques. Through an emphasis on deep-rooted spiritual values the College trains students to be better able to serve both God and their fellowmen.

In practice the program of resident instruction overlaps the programs research and extension. As students pursue their chosen curricula they assist with the research of the various agricultural projects. Furthermore, as a requirement for the four-year degree students conduct independent projects under the direction of an advisor and prepare formal reports covering the projects. Students often take part in the College's extension program as observers and participants in demonstrations, exhibits, farmers' institutes, farm study classes and other extension activities.

Commerce

PROFESSOR OTHELO DE LEON
Dean, College of Commerce

In 1930 Dr. Harland F. Stuart, then College President, felt the need of the right type of businessmen who would help develop the economic resources of the Philippines and bring about economic prosperity and stability. Two courses in Accounting were first offered. In 1933 and 1934 courses in Finance and Statistics were added respectively under the College of Arts and Sciences which was the only college in existence on the campus.

In June, 1935, the Junior College of Commerce was born. A two-year curriculum leading to the title of Associate in Commercial Science was formally organized under the leadership of Dean Emeritus Natividad G. Sitchon. In 1936, the title of Associate in Commercial Science was conferred for the first time on five students.

The Junior year was added in 1940 and before the senior year could be opened, the Second World War broke out.

In 1945, the college resumed operations at the Old Baptist Student Center in La Paz. The Junior College of Commerce became a full-pledged College of Commerce in 1946. In 1947, five students were graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce.

Today, Accounting, Business Administration, Economics, and Finance are offered as areas of specialization in response to the needs of the business community.

Many of our graduates and former students totalling around 1,180 are now scattered all over the Philippines, and as far as Japan, Guam, United States, Indonesia, and Thailand, holding positions of responsibility in banks, in commercial and industrial concerns, in education, in the government and in many other areas of human activities.

The Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education degree programs offer majors in: Home Economics and Physical Education. Authority to grant the BSE or the BSEEd degrees with majors in Pilipino and Music Education and Certificate in Teaching has been applied for and is in the processing stage. Holders of bachelor's degrees other than those in education or elementary education may work for the Certificate in Teaching diploma. This will enable them to meet requirements of the Bureau of Public Schools and other institutions of learning for qualification to teach in their specialized, professional fields.

The formal training and academic disciplines are enriched by seminars, workshops, consultations conducted by Visiting lecturers, qualified Peace Corps Volunteers, AID specialists, UNESCO consultants, Colombo Plan representatives and scholars and scientists from West European embassies who have either been invited by the university and college or been offered by their governments on some cultural exchange plan.

This is as it should be: the teacher is at the frontier of humanity's effort to push back ignorance and superstition. On his shoulders rest the responsibility for insuring that the child is guided well in his first contact with learning. The kind of citizens we will have in the future will be determined by the quality of teachers we have now. To meet this challenging task — probably more challenging than any other profession's — the teacher will be forced to call on his human resources, compassion and concern for the child. He knows his work reaches out beyond the present. In the words of Henry Adams, "A teacher affects eternity. He can never tell where his influence stops."

This is the kind of teacher we aim to turn out in the College of Education.

Central provides undergraduate training in Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering as well as specializations in Electronic Engineering, Geodetic Engineering and Sanitary Engineering. High scholastic standards are provided through up-to-date equipment and facilities backed by qualified and experienced faculty.

Chemical Engineering laboratory has a pilot plant for soap manufacture complete with boilers and accessories. A wide range of chemistry offerings are provided by the department of chemistry.

Civil Engineering has a hydraulic laboratory that can demonstrate flow on channels, pipes and weirs. The soils laboratory has facilities to determine the properties of soils such as Atterberg limits, unconfined compression and shear properties, and perform subsoil exploration. Testing of Materials laboratory can perform compression, tension and shear tests for various materials. Ultimate and Prestressed Design of Concrete structures, Plastic design of Steel Structures, and advanced techniques in materials study are now being taught in Civil Engineering courses. We have surveying equipment such as transit, levels, sextants, alidades compasses, for courses in Geodetic Engineering. Our chemistry laboratories are equipped to take care of offerings for a complete Sanitary Engineering course.

The Electrical Engineering laboratory has a complete line of Alternating and Direct Current power units with custom-designed working tables equipped with convenient controls and hook-up instruments. Electronics equipment such as oscilloscopes, vacuum tube voltmeters with standard electronic components, complete sets of variable power supplies, signal generators and electronic equipment for assembly and repair are provided in our Electronic laboratories.

The Mechanical Engineering laboratories are equipped with Diesel engines, Generators, Pumps, Compressors, boilers and a machine shop furnished with lathes, shapers, drills and complete maintenance equipment which are all available for student use.

Engineering at Central has set up a quality engineering scholarship program as an incentive for academic excellence. Awards are based on grade point average and a quality engineering examination given by the faculty, College of Engineering.

On the drawing board are plans for the Technological building. This is envisioned to take care of engineering laboratories, physical sciences, offices and research facilities. Temperature and humidity control units are proposed to keep equipment in excellent working condition.

Faculty, funds and facilities are the 3 F's of engineering that get extra attention so that our students might have the best out of their stay at Central.

College of Pharmacy

The College of Pharmacy endeavors to prepare its students to fit into any professional opportunities along the pharmaceutical and allied fields, and while the elder pharmacists' careers were practically centered around a drug store, nowadays, a young graduate has dozens of fields open to him.

Not only is the pharmacist now called upon to dispense medical prescriptions and safeguard the nation's health, but also to do such types of work as that of the toxicologist, analyst, hospital pharmacist, manufacturing chemist, and the laboratory technician in hospitals. With the establishment of big manufacturing houses in the Philippines, the pharmacist has become a detail salesman.

Graduation from public academic high schools or recognized private school is required of all applicants for admission. Courses taken in the College of Arts and Sciences may also be credited for their equivalents in the curriculum of the College of Pharmacy.

Theology

DR. REX D. DRILON
Acting Dean — College of Theology.

COLLEGE OF THEOLOGY, FACULTY AND STAFF: Rev. Loel A. Bacerra, Mrs. Mari M. Bacerra, Miss Esther U. Bastero, Miss Procerfina S. Plasus, Dr. Rex D. Drilon, Acting Dean, Rev. Restituto Ortigas, Miss Cordelia A. Gobuyan, Chairman, Administrative Committee, Miss Carmen Franco, Mrs. Joana Salem, and Rev. Johnny V. Gumban.

MISS CORDELIA A. GOBUYAN
Chairman, Administrative Committee

THEOLOGICAL education began at Central Philippine University in 1922 with a course entitled Special Bible Course, outlined by Dr. Alton Ezra Bigelow. In 1935 the department of theology was developed into the School of Theology of Central Philippine College and Dr. Bigelow became the first dean. In 1905 the Baptist Missionary Training School for women was organized with Miss Anna V. Johnson as principal. In 1938 the School of Theology and the Baptist Missionary Training School were officially merged and the classes became co-educational.

In 1962, because the courses had become almost identical for men and women, except possibly in the choice of "areas of intensification," it was decided that one degree only should be granted — that of Bachelor of Theology.

The College of Theology at Central Philippine University has a unique role. It is the only school of its kind within the area of the Convention of the Philippine Baptist Churches where churches may send their candidates for training for the ministry. It seeks to increase the ability of such individuals to assume places of responsible leadership in the life and work of evangelical churches and their related organizations.

All Christian leaders should possess high competency in dealing with Christian truth as revealed in the Bible and supremely in Jesus Christ. In addition to promoting a thorough knowledge of the Bible, the school purposes to encourage its students to obtain a keen and broad understanding of human nature, of the principles of education and growth, and of the facts and ways of Christian experience.

University High School

PARKING LOT

MISS NONA SUAREZ DOMINADO
Principal — University High School.

The University High School celebrates its Golden Jubilee this year. It was organized in 1917 and graduated its first class of seventeen students in 1921. Since then it has increased its enrollment to over 800 students.

The high school library has up-to-date facilities which include a book collection of 3,252 volumes, fifteen periodicals, a special collection of vocational books and pamphlets, and children's literature shelved in a small audio-visual room.

In 1957 the 2-2 plan was implemented with emphasis on developing moral character and providing a well-balanced education to meet the needs of the students. School organizations include in their program of activities—citizenship training, camping, fellowship meetings, and community services designed to develop in them active and functional leadership in preparation for ideal Christian living.

The University High School also works cooperatively with the College of Education in providing modern classroom facilities for practice teachers where the most recent trends on principles and techniques of teaching are applied.

MRS. EVANGELICA DIESTO PADERNILLA
Principal — University Elementary School

PRESENTING — THE UNIVERSITY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL.

Have you ever been to our newly expanded Elementary School building? If you haven't, do come around sometime and you will surely enjoy your visit!

No sooner than you step on the surroundings, you can right away feel the atmosphere of frolic and fun which is brought about by our 400 pupil-population. You can hear the sound of gleeful laughter and joyful noise floating into the corridors and yard of the modern, one-story building which our school children call their very own. Neatly clad girls in their pink and white uniforms and boys in their grey pants group themselves here and there — some playing with balls, skipping ropes, rubber bands, and playing hole-in. Others indulge in wholesome jokes and conversations and several others just stand by and enjoy what is going on around them. A group of conscientious pupils though, can be seen pouring over books and newspapers in the spacious children's library which boasts of more than 5,000 volumes. While everyone is engrossed in his own activity, the bell suddenly rings which means that the hard grind for the day is about to begin. Then the rush to the comfort rooms, to the drinking fountains and finally to the classrooms.

Peering into each room you can see the attractively-structured bulletin boards with pictures, drawings, and pupils' work — all conveniently and simply displayed at their focal point of interest. In this wholesome atmosphere the children's playful mood gradually changes into an attitude for learning. They then apply themselves to reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, cooking, drawing, and other rich and varied experiences which promote the maximum development of their basic skills, attitudes, and habits.

It is very compensatory and commendable to observe young minds and tiny hands busy at expressing ideas in rhyme, shape, color, music, etc. There are, of course, the unavoidable noise and outbursts of mischief now and then but they are masterfully quelled by the teachers' understanding and disarming personality. Here the "opportunity for the fullest development of thought, feeling, and conduct of each individual" is provided "to the end that they may realize his potential possibilities for the greatest good of himself and society."

Principal, Kindergarten

For many of our children, Central Philippine University KINDERGARTEN is the first introduction to a large social group. It is an important place to the child's adjustment to society—carrying with it the feeling of accomplishment and the feeling of belonging and finding one's own place in his "world." Through variety of experiences in a well-balanced program, the child is guided towards wholesome physical activity, emotional security, stable social adjustment creative use of talents and materials, satisfactory solving of daily problems and having a good start towards "self-discipline."

Let's take a peep into a day's schedule to give you a glimpse of the thrill and fun in kindergarten. The children come early to school looking neat and chic in their colorful uniforms — eager to play and anything. They run (seldom walk) "from here to there, from there to here." Outside—there's the slide, the swings, the see-saw, the jungle gym, the rocking-boat, the nipa hut, the green grass, the sand—even the puddles on the rainy days. Inside—they rush to the book-corner, the play house corner, the piano and other musical instruments, the block-corner and other interest corners. When they find papers, crayons, clay, etc....free play period is the truly a busy-happy time.

You hear the bell rings for together-time. Now—they all sit on the floor for the sharing time for story and sing-time, and for instructions. Soon it's time for games and rhythm funs — for jumping, skipping marching, dancing and other mimetic activities. It's a great time for laughter. Next it's time for washing of hands and doing personal necessities for a snack (milk and cookies), and then brushing of teeth. After a short period of rest — the children get up for the opportunity to express their learning through different guided and creative activities—drawing, painting, clay modelling, dramatic experiences, field-trips and many other avenues of expressions. The garden is full of children — of Laughter — of Fun!

University Religious Life

Enter to meditate . . .

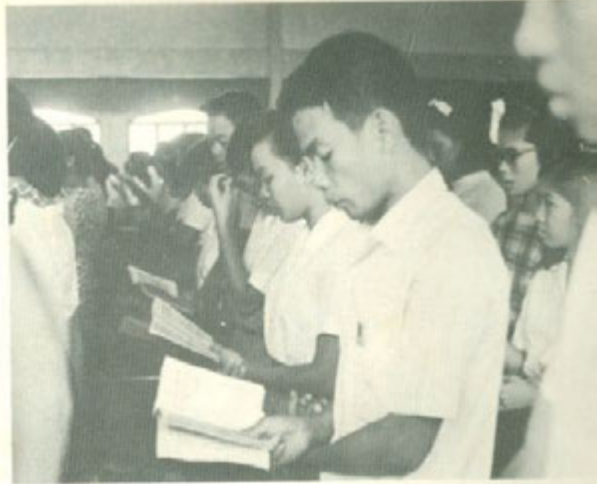

. . . in deep contrition

... the sermon

self-seeking.

... and then the decision.

To climax the religious programs and activities of the University, Christian Emphasis Week is held each semester. This brings opportunities for a greater knowledge and experiences of God.

The church, a worshipful place on the campus, blends Bible Study and stirring choir anthems and other forms of worship to satisfy one's thirst for spiritual things.

Sunday School Teachers

The Sunday School is a vital phase of the Church's life, as it seeks to fulfill her teaching ministry. On the campus we have Sunday School classes for the Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary, Junior, Junior High, College, English Adults and Visayan Adults. To share the rich blessings of this ministry, the Church extends itself to stations such as the Majaque Compound, Democracia and Arguelles Sts.

Now is the time to enter His gates....

Around the table, professionals pitch in their ideas as they dig deep into their Sunday School lesson with Mrs. Joy Edge.

Miss Gloria Lucenio presiding a lively briefing before the young volunteers leave for their respective witnessing stations.

Christian Youth Fellowship

College

A glowing campfire, strains of melancholy Negro spirituals, devotional thoughts — these are some of the features of the C.Y.F. Enthusiastic and energetic high school and college young people gather every Sunday afternoon to talk about themselves, the school, the community and the world outside. Among other exciting activities are songs galore, quizzes, games, parties and occasional outings. Topics like "The Living Faith," "Ecumenism," "Democracy and Other Ideologies" stimulate the young people's minds so that they look forward Sunday after Sunday to wonderful times of camaraderie and spiritual uplift. A unique organization, the C.Y.F., brings about growth in both the religious and secular realms.

High School

Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship

Every other day at four in the afternoon, a small room at Johnson Hall comes alive with a group of students who lay aside their books and notes for an hour of productive fun and fellowship. For them, this is a time to re-charge their spiritual batteries. As they gather, the members get to know each other more even as they discuss pressing problems in relation to their Christian witness. The study of the Bible, prayer and deep meditation are important parts of their program. In the process of mutual sharing they enlighten the seeking minds.

Rev. Thomas P. Gabio, Jr., Associate minister of the University Church also serves as the adviser for the IVCF and the High School CYF.

Central Phil. University Gospel Team

Where in the campus can you find actresses, singers, teachers and preachers all rolled up into one? You don't have to go far — come around any Sunday afternoon about 3:00 at the Johnson Hall Chapel — you will see the CPU Gospel Team in action. Some will either be on stage practicing a play or a couple may be sitting in one corner blending their voices in a gospel song or a member may be standing in front of the group sharing his experiences with a graceful flourish of the hand. These things they do in preparation for their trips to different towns and barrios where they share songs, religious dramas and personal testimonies with the rural folks. These young college students find it a joy trooping to remote areas to talk with the people and in more ways than one, doing witnessing. After a visit to a church, the young people find in

Campus Organizations

Service Organizations

Library Work Student Assistants Organization

The sixty-six hard working student members of this organization are assigned in the library and in the audio-visual department of the University. They compose more than one third of the work students. With the cooperation of every member and the library staff, it is hoped that this organization will render the best service possible and will work together to attain splendid accomplishments.

Junior Institute of Accountants

The Junior Accountants late first semester found itself engrossed with the preparation and promotion of the Philippine Accountants' Conference in the city of Iloilo. After the convention of Philippine CPA's this organization, composed of commerce students majoring in accounting, was hailed for its help and support.

The organization conducts the "Operation Quick Count" every CPUR elections for the sake of public service. The present president is Herminio Araque and its advisers are Mr. Edwin Jolipa, Miss Serena Luntao, and Mr. Manuel Obligacion.

Lambda Kappa Sorority

The year 1964-1965 brought this exclusive female students' sorority of the College of Commerce to the limelight when it was awarded with the highest award for a service organization.

The sorority ushers in convocations and programs and guides campus visitors. Aside from this unselfish service it is a project of this sorority to offer the "One Hundred Peso Scholarship Award" to a deserving and qualified female commerce student.

Phi Beta Epsilon Fraternity

The creed of this fraternity of engineering students is embodied in Professor Connan's philosophy that men if left to wander aimlessly in a field may stumble upon the truth and pick the wild flowers of knowledge, but if their efforts are controlled and directed, they may reap a more bountiful harvest with which they can build a beautiful garden of understanding wherein the minds of men can find a serene delight.

One of the annual projects of this fraternity is the mathematics and physics coaching classes for students. Although not formally adopted, it seems as though a new philosophy has been added to the bloodstream of the fraternity. This can be summarized in the words of Thomas Paine. "The harder the conflict the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheaply, we esteem too lightly; it is dearness only that gives everything its value." This can be proven every time new members enter the fold of the fraternity.

CPU Band

The band is an organization which deserves more recognition than it usually is given. It serves when ever needed which is usually during special convocations, ROTC presentations, special affairs, parades, and weekly flag ceremonies. The 30 — members of the band are dedicated to their task of adding zest and attractiveness to many of our campus activities.

Men's Revue Fraternity

Through their numerous performances and songs for nine years, the Men's Revue, organized by Dr. Eliseo D. Delfin, not only has wooed thousands of people, but in the process has encouraged hundreds to study in our University.

Their recent "Love Transcending" cantata and other performances were much applauded. They still are living up to their outstanding name.

CPUR Police

No government can ever sustain a robust and unflinching stature in its economic and political life unless peace and order prevail among the people.

In consonance with such a principle the CPUR has its agency, the POLICE FORCE, created to safeguard the right ordinances and regulations of the government as well as of its citizenry.

Community Development Student Volunteers

It has been proven by political and economic analysts that progress can be best attained through self-help, and that the government as a sole vehicle leading to the road of development is not enough. So with this idea, the Social Science Department organized the CD Student Volunteers, composed mostly of students who are imbued with the spirit of community development, but before any student can be accepted they must pass first the 6 (six) hour community training requirement. The organization indulges in projects such as adult and children education, beautification projects, etc. They are the local counterpart of the well-known PRRM (Philippine Rural Reconstruction Movement), the only difference is that these Centalians don't get any compensation — just pure service.

Gamma Rho Epsilon Fraternity

In 1960, a group of mechanical and electrical engineering students of the University ventured into a task of forming an organization which is the Gamma Rho Upsilon Fraternity. The first set of officers was headed by L. Robles and A. Dosayla.

This organization only admits students with a high scholastic record and those passing the established initiation rites for full-fledged members. Usually the rites cover tests of individual fitness, moral and social attitudes, and above all the capacity to apply mental faculty to problems pertinent to the mechanical and electrical engineering profession.

The organization also conducts a slide rule coaching class which is given free to bonafide students of Central Philippine University.

Having the motto, "Labor is honor", there is no other organization as active and as well-organized as they are. The group helps facilitate the smooth functions of all offices in the University and also keeps and maintains buildings and campus grounds.

Work Students

Though taking a basic academic load, aside from their working schedules, a majority of them still excel academically as well as in extracurricular activities.

Many Centralians who are now in distinguished positions in their fields of study, are proud to have emerged from this group.

For their humble and unselfish services we salute them.

"Toy" and "Chart" with other Thai students perform a Thai harvest dance for an O.S.O. presentation.

The Overseas Student Organization

THE OVERSEAS STUDENT ORGANIZATION this year numbers among its members students from Thailand, Japan, the United States, and Indonesia. Five of the Thai students are graduating this year.

The purpose of the organization is fellowship among the members and orientation to Filipino life and culture. The officers are: President, Reginald Tuggle; Vice-president, Bertha Ellsmore; Secretary, Catherine Edge; Treasurer, Yuthachai Uttama; Public Relations and Business Manager, Pittaya Bhokasiri; Advisers, Dean and Mrs. Othello de Leon, Professor and Mrs. Valeriano Revicencio, and Dean Linnea Nelson.

The O.S.O. presents an annual convocation program for the High School and college and representatives also appear in programs in other public and private schools of the City and province. The organization cooperates actively with the Philippine International Friendship Organization.

The foreign students at an acquaintance tea at the Executive residence, discover that the tinkling is not as easy as it looks.

Yoshiko Usami, Miss Japan of C.P.U., is a perfect example of charm and politeness.

Bertha Ellsmore, Robert Burgess, John Presley and Reggie Tuggle, American Junior Year Abroaders, accompanied by Kenneth Cato and Francis Griño, sing an American folk song.

The OSO Members

Philippine International Friendship Organization

Under its founder, Ben Mahinay, the organization has for its first and foremost objective, the desire to foster international friendship and brotherhood. The CPU chapter is one of the few PIFO chapters outside of Manila. Way back in 1963, Dylan Dizon who had been a member of one Manila organization, saw that with the presence of some foreign students at CPU, a chapter may well be organized.

Programs are planned in such a way that the members get to know better the culture of the countries represented in the club. Parties are held quite often, trips to historic spots are made, native dishes are shared with each other and Filipino homes are always open for overseas students.

Above all, it is impressed upon the member's mind that all should work together to maintain world peace and to understand fully the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of men.

"Blest be the tie binds..."

Sharon Ruiz, P I F O president
"appeals for one world."

Cenfags

The Central Female Agriculturalists, was organized in 1965 by Miss Leonora Moises, the first president of the organization. It was created to maintain a closer fellowship among all the female students in the College and to keep the women active in their college affairs as well as in the affairs of the community.

The CENFAGS raise funds for the Agriculture Field Day, in order to buy agricultural books to be given to our University library. They also do agricultural extension work, as well as offer lecture hours, workshops, and social gatherings.

Every 10th of October the Chinese people all around the world celebrate their "National Day", popularly known as the Double Ten. The Chinese students of the University stage a program sharing this celebration with their fellow Centralians and with invited folks from the Chinese community in the city. The presentation is only one of the many presentations and activities by them throughout the year.

Chinese Students Organization

La Carlota Centralians

Just like the other students from different places studying here at Central who have converged themselves into Centralian organizations, the students from the city of La Carlota, Negros Occidental, organized themselves.

They believe that by being together in their aims and aspirations they can easily hurdle obstacles and emerge as successful Centralians.

Luzon Centralians

Loneliness never reigns while far away from home as long as you are with people who share the same customs and traditions.

So, if you are a Tagalog student you are surely lucky, because here at CPU the Luzonians have found homogeneity under the Luzon Centralians Organization.

Mindanao Centralians

The Mindanao Centralians is organized for the purpose of fostering friendship and brotherhood among students from Mindanao who are studying at Central.

Capiz Centralians

Capiz Centralians is one of the many regional organizations here at the CPU campus. It aims for the unity, cooperation, and understanding among its members.

Its first existence can be traced back to 1954. The organization has been blessed with brilliant and talented members who now occupy distinguished positions in their fields.

Having a rich cultural and historical heritage, members display such potentials through various programs and plays.

Executives '67

Every year hundreds of students are joining the caravan to the world of professionals, and within these hundreds are a great number of unlucky ones who will become jobless, thus becoming a liability to the society. The Executives '67 founded by Elpidio Golez, geared to make its members become better graduates and better citizens of the Philippines. It is affiliated with Scholars. "We believe in the principle that the finest type of a citizen is the one who does not need a law to make him have regard for the welfare of the country while seeking his own opportunity."

Junior Historical Council

This organization was formally organized in August 1965 by twenty-five students majoring and minoring in History. The primary purpose of the organization is to encourage students to study and appreciate more of our country's history and culture, as well as the history and culture of other countries.

It has sponsored several convocations of historical plays such as "Ang Pagtaba sang Panay" and the "Conversion of the Cebuanos." The members also have gone to the historic spots of Iloilo, such as Tigbawan, Guimbal, Miagao, San Joaquin, Alimodian and Sumakwil Hill.

Kappa Delta Pi This is a brain child of the Illinois Education Club which was established in the University of Illinois in 1909. Education students of Central Philippine University, recognizing the lofty aims of the society and desiring to maintain a high standard of professional efficiency in teaching, organized in this institution in 1949. The birth of this chapter was made possible through the inspiration and able advice of Dr. Alfredo P. Catedral, who is himself a member of the Kappa Chapter, Teachers College, Columbia University.

Rizal once asked, "Where are the youths who will concentrate their golden hours, for the upliftment of the Philippines from the avarice of moral decadence, from the political and economic cancer of his time." These words of the great Malayan have forged the Students of Rizal to be more militant in their role as citizens of this country. This organization is mostly concerned with the life and works of Dr. Jose Rizal. Its membership is limited to selected students who have excelled in their Rizal courses. Every year some members are sent to a national conference for student leaders, the site of which is always a historical place.

Westonians

WESTON HALL, the main ladies dorm on the campus has a unique position overlooking the athletic and parade field. Westonians, supervised by Miss Constancia Mazo always show great enthusiasm for dormitory life activities. A passer-by can usually hear the piano and singing for these activities compose much of the relaxation hours of the girls.

Johnsonians

JOHNSON HALL, located on the southern part of the campus, houses the College of Theology female students as well as some twenty other girls from other colleges.

Though a female dormitory, Johnson caters for all male theologians who in turn just love to be with the girls during "chow time", the time when the true dorm spirit is noisily evident.

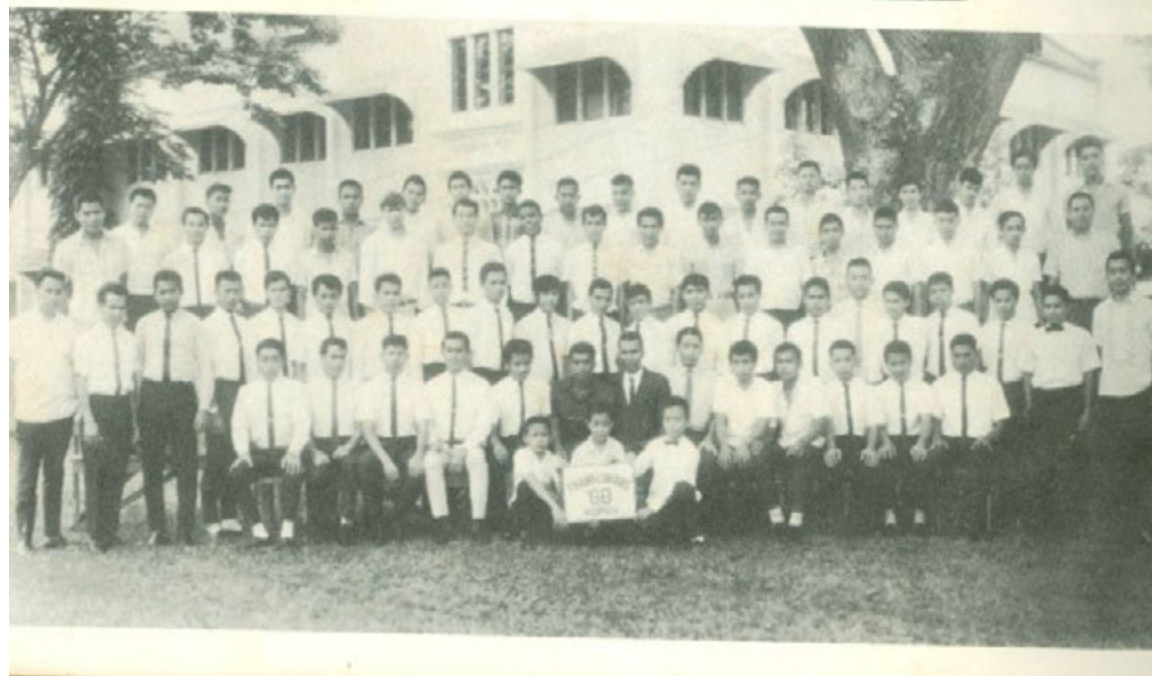

For many years Johnson residents have had to share the lights with mosquitoes and other insects, but because their third floor dormitory is now screened, studying is not disturbed.

MR. AUGUSTO DE LA CRUZ
Manager, Franklin Hall Residence

Franklinians

FRANKLIN HALL, a traditional male dormitory, launched a style — "the evening walk-around the campus parade" when their student government presidential candidate won. The dorm which was just recently renovated, houses more than eighty men who take active part in intramurals, other activities, and social events in the campus. It also houses most of the male foreign students of the University.

Central Philippine University Republic

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Central Philippine University Republic holds the distinction of being the oldest students government in the entire country. Patterned after the Republic of the Philippines, it serves as a spawning ground for students who will in the near future go out into world to take up the responsibilities of good citizenship. The elected students serve a term of one school year in which they coordinate CPUR-sponsored student activities like the University Day, the Christmas Festival and the Annual Picnic.

In my hands rests the responsibility to defend the CPUR constitution, execute its laws.....

With a smile, Vice-President elect Godfrey Catanus accepts the responsibilities and demands of his position.

Out-going President Merna Rico hands the Key, the Gavel and the Bible to the incoming President Joeville de los Santos.

The University President congratulates the CPUR President in a warm handclasp.

Governors take their oath into office.

The incoming congressmen and congresswomen accept their responsibilities.

President Rex D. Drilon inducts the senators-elect.

Ten Outstanding Students honor Dr. Jose Rizal who was himself an outstanding student during his days.

Ten Outstanding Students

Dear friends,

We thought it would be nice to drop you a line to tell you about the "goings-on" up here in Manila. It's rather hard to believe but we are here thrown in the midst of the so-called top bracket of this year's graduates. How do we feel? That's one question we have never learned to answer since the papers blurted out the news. Of course, we are proud of this honor but we are more proud of good old Central. We are aware that had it not been for the years of training and rigid discipline we got from her, we would not have reached this peak. We now see the reason why our instructors had to make us write this paper and read that book — it was all for our benefit. Our school has so much to offer and everything just within our reach. We took hold of it and look what we reaped! CPU has now been placed on the map. We have shown them, haven't we? Let's maintain it!

Be seeing you all soon.

Fondly,
Perla and Sharon

"Hey, do you have dandruff too?"

"I've got heartburn."

"Aw come on, let's dance."

Criminality is up, so we're under ROTC control.

"Here, this will help you grow."

"That's how we sneak-out...through the window."

"Pardon, sweet people!!"

"He spilled my ice cream."

"Please bail us out."

It took dedication, careful planning, consultations, patience, understanding, concern, and a lot of inspiration to recapture through our yearbook our life and ambitions in this prestigious institution. It is now made — keep and treasure it well.
God Bless.
